To Whom It May Concern,

It is our pleasure to recommend Sanket Baraiya, who has been working with Hyperion Agency as an Automation Engineer on a retained basis since January 2026.

Throughout our collaboration, Sanket has played a key role in streamlining our internal operations by developing and managing automation solutions tailored to our business needs. His work has included building workflows for Shopify, automating social media publishing, and integrating various business processes using platforms such as Make and n8n. Whenever off-the-shelf automation tools were insufficient, he developed custom scripts to deliver reliable, scalable solutions.

The impact of his work has been substantial. By automating repetitive and time-consuming tasks, our team has been able to operate more efficiently, reduce manual effort, and improve the consistency and reliability of our day-to-day workflows.

Beyond his technical expertise, Sanket has consistently demonstrated professionalism, clear communication, and a strong sense of responsibility. He remains proactive in maintaining the systems he builds, providing ongoing support, monitoring performance, and resolving issues whenever needed. His ability to collaborate effectively across different time zones has made him a dependable partner for our team.

Based on our experience, we are confident in recommending Sanket to any organization seeking a skilled automation engineer who can design practical, dependable solutions and provide long-term support for business automation initiatives.

Sincerely,

Wouter Meulman - CEO
